

TOWN & COUNTY NEWS.

DALLAS, SATURDAY, SEPT. 3, 1870.

The Jacksonville papers mention the arrival of Mr. B. Robb and family at that place.

At Boise City.—The many friends of Judge W. C. Whitson will, no doubt, be pleased to learn that he, with his family, arrived in Boise City on the 19th of August in good health.

Lost.—A gold specimen, weighing about four dollars, and used as an ornament to a watch's guard, has been lost somewhere about town. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning it to W. H. Catterlin.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.—The Columbia Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will commence its session at their Church, in Dallas, on Wednesday next, the 7th instant. Bishop Wrightman, of Charleston, S. C., will preside.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We acknowledge the reception of season tickets for the Linn county Fair and the State Fair. The Linn county Fair will be held at Albany on the 20th of September, and continuing four days. The State Fair commences Oct. 10th, and continues six days.

CLEAR.—The weather for the past week has been beautiful. The smoke that usually hangs over the whole country at this season of the year has entirely disappeared, and the air is as pure as that of spring. We confidently expect that this state of things will much improve the health.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—Mr. J. C. Bell's advertisement, which appears in our columns this week, is worthy of a careful perusal by the farmers. Mr. Bell has just received a new stock of goods and purchasers should consult their interests by giving him a call before purchasing elsewhere.

SULPHUR SPRING.—Mr. G. P. Litchfield tells us that he has discovered, but a short distance from the toll gate, on the Yamhill and Ocean Beach Wagon Road, a strong white sulphur spring. Parties who have visited both say it is equal to the celebrated white sulphur springs of Virginia.

The people of Dallas and vicinity will be glad to learn that the Rev. D. L. Spaulding is returned to them for another year. Mr. Spaulding is a faithful pastor and a consistent Christian. In conjunction with all true Christian teachers and in view of the sacrifices they make, we sincerely wish them abundant reward for their labor.

No HOTEL.—Mr. Robb, who lately kept the hotel, has quit and the town is now without any place for the entertainment of strangers. There must be a radical change somewhere, for we cannot afford to be without some public house. Our citizens should think of this matter and devise a remedy.

FIRE.—This week fire has been burning in the woods up on the Rieckard, that causes considerable uneasiness among farmers having rails in that vicinity. It is not certainly known how the fire originated, but it cannot be too firmly impressed upon the minds of those camping in the mountains that carelessness with fire may cause great damage.

POLK CO. STATISTICS.—From the census returns of this county we find that there are 710 dwellings, and 719 families. The total population is 4,705—males 2,622, and females 2,083. The number of deaths within the county for the year prior to June 1st, 1870, was 29—males 15, females 14. Within the county there are 52 manufacturing establishments, having invested a total capital of $4,285,25.

MINERAL WATER.—Mr. G. P. Litchfield brought us a bottle of water on Wednesday last from the mineral spring on the Yamhill. The water, of course, don't taste as it does when fresh from the fountain, yet it is very palatable. It is claimed that the water possesses valuable medicinal qualities. No reliable analysis has been made yet. The spring is located in the bed of the river, about four hundred yards above the Yamhill bridge crossed by the road leading to the Grand Ronde Indian Agency.

FARM ON FIRE.—One day last week, on Mr. Yeater's farm on the Luckianote, a fire was fanned into active life from a straw pile that had been burned several days before, and soon spread to an adjoining farm owned by Mr. Smith. Before they could stop flames about four tons of hay was destroyed. Mr. Smith's orchard was badly burned, and about half of it killed, a large amount of fencing was destroyed, and it was only by the timely arrival of help that the fire was kept from the barns and dwellings. Farmers cannot be too careful with fire and straw.

DIED.

At the family residence in Polk county, Aug. 27th, 1870, Mrs. E. M., consort of Robert Dyer, and daughter of Nathan and Elizabeth Conner, aged 17 years and 6 months.

The deceased leaves a husband, a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. She was called suddenly from our midst, without an opportunity to whisper a last farewell. She was a consistent Christian, therefore, we mourn not as one without hope.

We knew Matilda from her childhood; strongly sympathizing with her numerous friends, we can hardly realize or be satisfied with the thought that she has forever gone from our midst. With brilliant intellect and that womanly virtue which challenged the admiration of all who knew her, she bid fair to be a star in society.

Verily the aged must, and the young may die.

LIST OF LETTERS REMAINING

JOS. D. LEE, P. M.

The Railroad Question.

We find, on examination, that Senator Nesmith introduced the bill granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad in Oregon. On the second day of February, 1866, Mr. Nesmith by unanimous consent, introduced Senate Bill No. 123, granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Pacific Railroad, in California, to Portland or the navigable waters of the Columbia river in Oregon.

It seems, then, that Senator Nesmith was willing the road should terminate at any point on the Columbia or at Portland—wherever it would result in the greatest good to the greatest number. This bears upon its face the marks of impartiality and honesty, and savors strongly of a disposition to labor for the whole people of Oregon, irrespective of party or locality. And why did not this bill pass in that form? We give the reason as we have it from high authority: Simply because Mr. George H. Williams refused to support the bill unless its terminus was confined to the city of Portland. If Mr. Williams shall assent to this by his silence, then we ask the people of the West Side who has been your friend, and how much are you indebted to Williams? He was neither the author of the bill nor would he consent that the road should terminate at any point but Portland. The bill was so amended and then passed.

But we find another provision in the bill, which reads in such harmony with our article of last week, under caption of "Senatorial Question," that we give the substance. It is found in the latter clause of the first section of the bill, and provides that, if the California company shall reach the State line before the Oregon Company, that the said California Company may proceed on into Oregon until it shall form a junction with the road in our State, and they shall have the right of way over the lands of the Government and the full benefit of the grant in Oregon. And, by the provisions of the bill, the road must run through the Rogue river and Umpqua valleys, so the people of Southern Oregon can see by reference to the bill, that all the threats of Holladay and Williams amount to nothing but wind, for from present indications, the California Company will complete the road in accordance with the provisions of the bill, as far north as the Calapooia Mountain, before Ben will reach Eugene City. It is patent that the members from Southern Oregon will not be compelled, as O'Meara intimates, to vote for Williams on that ground. If they are anxious to vote for a Republican, it will suit us exceedingly; but we demand they shall vote for one who has a consistent record.

How long since Mr. Williams was a confirmed follower of Stephen A. Douglas? And now we find him a confirmed convert to the doctrine of Fred. Douglas. He seems to be stuck after the Douglas family, no matter how great the change of sentiments or color. We tell you, people of Oregon, that if the ghost of that great and immortal statesman, Stephen A. Douglas, was permitted, it would return to earth and strike down the apostate who dare proclaim such a damnable political heresy as universal suffrage.

Another Mystery Solved.—Chemists being unable to discover the ingredients in Fragarit Sogozov, which removes all stains from the teeth and imparts such a peculiar rosiness to the gums, the public are hereby informed that it is a preparation from the bark of the QUELLAY'S SAGE WAX or Soap Tree of Chile, imported for the first time into this country for this special purpose. Such is the purifying and innocuous effect of this rare botanical agent, that it removes discoloration from the most fragile textile fabrics, without injuring a single thread.

Don't be humbugged with the foolish idea that Catarh cannot be cured! The world moves, and medical science is progressive. The proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarh remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists. Can get it by mail for sixty cents from Dr. R. V. Pierce, of 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., who is the sole proprietor and the only man now living that can make the Genuine. Don't forget that the Genuine has Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp on each package.

Save and mend the pieces, use "SPAUDING'S GLE."

STATE ITEMS.

There will be a larger yield of grain in Union county than was at first anticipated. But the price of flour is lower than it was twelve months ago.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: "The sale of government horses and mules came off last Saturday, at this place. Thirty-six head were sold at prices ranging from $10 to $45 a head.

Mrs. Abram Garrison, of Salem, formerly of Yamhill county, cooked breakfast on Monday for the family and soon after fell down dead. We have not learned the probable cause of her sudden decease.

There was to have been a horse race a few days ago at La Grande, but it "fizzled." The editor of the Democrat had built high hopes upon the anticipated event, and says "words cannot express his contempt for the manner in which the long looked for race terminated.

J. M. Moore, of Oregon City, for twenty seven years a resident of Oregon, has gone on a visit to his old home in Missouri.

Mr. J. J. Williams, living near Scio, while oiling some of the machinery of a threshing machine, and his arm frightfully mangled.

On Saturday morning a barn belonging to a man named Brown, a few miles from McMinnville, was burned. Two horses perished and ten tons of hay were consumed. Indians are supposed to have set the barn on fire.

The Linn County Agricultural Fair will be held on the grounds of the Society near Albany, on the 20th, 21st, 22d, 23d, 24th, of September. The past Fairs of the Linn County Society have been a credit to our State, and we feel satisfied that the Fair of 1870 will fully equal its predecessors.

According to a letter from Salem to the Corvallis Gazette, there is just now a great rush among the Democracy for the leaves and fishes. Bill Watkins says he had 300 applications for the position of guard at the penitentiary. He will employ a good many, but don't think the people would stand 300.

The people of Albany sometime ago promised to grant such aid to the Oregon and California Railroad Company as would induce them to build a road in that place, it being some distance from the direct line of route. The Company now ask that this promise of aid be put in a satisfactory shape. The Albany papers urge the people to take hold of it. Property holders in Albany, it is expected, will become responsible for the amount.

The rain that fell here the other day did not extend very far south. None at all fell in Yamhill county.

Telegraphic Summary.

CANYONVILLE, 28.—While John Stinger, son of the brewer, was out hunting yesterday afternoon, when his gun was prematurely discharged, the charge of shot lacerating his right elbow in a shocking manner. NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A cable dispatch to the New York Sun, dated Arton, says the Prussians are making a flank movement on McMahon in the same manner as they did on Bazaine. The Prussians who were marching on Paris have changed their front and are going north.

A Paris letter says 200,000 good troops are in the city, besides 18,000 gunners from the fleet.

Our troops were victorious. The French commander was wounded and taken prisoner.

Reports say that Bazaine telegraphed to his wife not to leave Versailles. There will be no danger; everything goes better and better.

It is reported that Napoleon is shut up in Metz.

A battle is reported going on between McMahon and Prince Frederick Charles.

The Tribune's correspondent says that the people do not suffer the terrors of war. Women and shop keepers in villages are not molested. It is essentially a civilized war.

A Household Elixir Adapted to all Climates.

It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitements at present used in the practice of medicine could be swept out of existence, and HOSBERT'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. In California it seems possible that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its salutary and saving properties, increase with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie," show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the State. As an appetizer, a general invigorant, a remedy for indigestion, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulency and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nerve, a blood purifier, a specific for sick headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a safeguard AGAINST EPIDEMICS, it is, undoubtedly, the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole Pacific territory. In the towns and cities and towns it is literally a HOUSEHOLD STAPLE. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble," a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subject. Men believe in it because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind, and tones both without exciting either.
